TRAVEL INFORMATION

You must arrange your own air transport. Don't make firm reservations until you are assured of acceptance in the program. Check with Sar-El Canada for an appropriate scheduled program date and note that programs start on Sunday, or Monday. To be met by a Sar-El representative you must be at Ben Gurion airport during normal business hours on Sunday or Monday of the scheduled program start date. Depending on your arrival time, be prepared for a lengthy wait.

If you arrive on other days, or at other times, you will not be met and will be responsible for looking after yourself until Sar-El arranges to meet you on a Sunday or Monday.

Programs normally end after work on Thursday of the third week, but arrangements can be made to end after work on the second Thursday. Indicate the length of your intended program period: e.g. 3 weeks (period will terminate on the third Thursday), 2 weeks (period will terminate on the second Thursday), etc.

After acceptance into the program, submit your Ben Gurion (Tel Aviv) arrival flight information: airline, flight number, date and time.

HEALTH INSURANCE

You are required to have adequate health insurance. Sar-El provides no hospital/medical insurance coverage for volunteers, whether on or off the base. So, if necessary, purchase appropriate additional coverage, since adequate health insurance is essential. Canadian medicare coverage, alone, is not adequate. You must show proof of coverage (three copies please) when you join your group in Israel. You can not enter the program without such insurance proof.
